

High-Speed Internet Access Management and Support Solutions Provider, Single Digits, Welcomes Scott Alcott, Rainer Gawlick and Angie Wiskocil as Board Members

San Francisco, CA — May 1, 2019 Renovata & Company is pleased to welcome Scott Alcott, Rainer Gawlick and Angie Wiskocil as board members for Single Digits, a leading provider of high-speed internet access (HSIA) management and support solutions. The three new board members bring extensive track records and broad strategic experience during a pivotal time for the company.

Backed by GI Partners, Single Digits offers a complete guest internet solution, including IP network design, engineering, professional services, ongoing maintenance, networking monitoring, multi-lingual support, revenue reporting and authentication tracking. The company currently serves more than 1,600 customers across various industries, including hospitality, property management, healthcare, government, education, travel and more.

Single Digits is positioned for exponential growth with its innovative Broadband Authentication Platform (BAP), which enables properties to tailor their HSIA to their industry's unique needs. Using the company's managed service business models, clients can easily boost revenues, strengthen customer loyalty and better promote their own brands without capital expenditures.

"Scott, Rainer and Angie bring a great deal of expertise to Single Digits at this opportune time," says Simon Francis, Renovata & Company partner. "They all have experience in the technology sector and understand how to solve business problems, optimize business processes, and align business goals to drive revenue and grow a company."

Alcott is a proven multi-national C-level executive with a demonstrable record of success leading technology and digital transformations in the telecom industry. He is the chief information officer for Comcast, the $80B integrated telecom and media company. Gawlick has broad international experience in the technology sector as an operational executive, board member and management consultant. He is currently a board member for several technology companies, and before that he was president of Perfecto Mobile, a provider of mobile and web testing solutions and infrastructure. Wiskocil is an executive board advisor for several Silicon Valley companies and has been a consultant and executive advisor for over a decade. She has also held several executive officer-level positions with AT&T; most recently, she was president and chief executive officer of AT&T WiFi, a subsidiary of AT&T.
