

Enfuce, a Cloud-Based Payment Solutions Provider, Welcomes Jess Collingwood as Chief People Officer

London, England — November 14, 2022 Renovata & Company is pleased to announce the placement of Jess Collingwood as chief people officer for Enfuce, a cloud-based payment solutions provider for fintechs, banks and merchants that specializes in next-level card-issuing and payment-processing services. This is Renovata & Company's third placement for Enfuce.

Backed by Vitruvian Partners, Enfuce was founded in 2016. The company helps fintechs, banks and merchants launch secure, compliant and globally scalable payment services faster, easier and sustainably.

Currently, Enfuce has a team of more than 150 people based in Europe. The company is on an aggressive growth trajectory as non-cash transactions continue to accelerate. Enfuce is in a good position because it offers a depth of industry expertise with a product that's scalable and architected for ease-of-use. Collingwood will play a key leadership role in shaping the company's performance culture as Enfuce expands in Europe.

"Jess is helping Enfuce grow its team with a focus on driving execution across a distributed, mostly remote team," says Thomas Jepsen, Renovata & Company partner. "Her deep knowledge in organizational structure and how to optimize for growth is an asset to Enfuce—helping the company attract quality talent at all levels during this critical next stage of growth."

Prior to joining Enfuce, Collingwood was chief people officer at Photobox Group, an online digital photos-based products company. Before that, she was HR director at glh Hotels, which owns and operates luxury hotels in London. She was a senior director with Alvarez & Marsal, and spent several years at Virgin and Virgin Media in people director roles. Earlier in her career, she worked in HR at companies including Pearson and Discovery Networks.
