

Engineering, a Leading Consulting and Systems Integrator, Welcomes Nicola Junior Vitto as Executive Director, Net@ Business Unit

London, England — September 6, 2023 Renovata & Company is pleased to announce the placement of Nicola Junior Vitto as executive director of the Net@ software product business unit of Engineering, a leading consulting and systems integrator in Italy. Vitto is responsible for leading and transforming the company's Net@ business unit—evolving the current “meter-to-cash” software to a full software as-a-service (SaaS) solution.

Backed by Bain Capital and NB Renaissance, Engineering is expanding its global footprint, with approximately 15,000 associates and more than 70 offices spread across Europe, the United States and South America.

The company's Net@ business unit is a profitable, growing business driven by a team of over 700 people. The next phase of the company's growth involves the transformation of the Net@ proposition from a more traditional system-integration, client-by-client driven approach to an end-to-end solution with a cloud SaaS product at its core.

“Nicola is a seasoned B2B software leader who has built teams and engaged cross-functionally to harness expertise and build buy-in to successfully execute high-quality products,” says Lisa Morgan, Renovata & Company principal. “He has the leadership track record to evolve the business unit during this important growth stage for the company.”

Prior to joining Engineering, Vitto was executive vice president and chief product and technology office at Kaleyra. Before that, he held several leadership positions at ShopFully International Group, including chief technology officer and business line director, marketplace. Vitto has also launched a SaaS startup, and he was vice president of marketing at Ubiquity. He began his career as a software developer and engineer at companies including Yoox and Prometeia.
